To primary school parents

e.p.c. To primary school teachers

Subject: News evaluation of the learning of primary school pupils

Subject: New primary School Report assesment levels

Dear / s,

the Decree Law 8 April 2020, n. 22, converted with amendments by Law 6 June 2020, n. 41 provided that starting from this school year periodic and final assessment of learning, in primary school classes, is expressed through a descriptive judgment reported in the School Report (Documento di Valutazione) and referred to different levels of learning. In application of aforementioned legislation, Ministerial Ordinance 172 of 4 December provided more precise information.

Descriptive judgments must be expressed for each objective (or core) of individual disciplines. Assessments are elaborated and summarized on the basis of the four learning levels (see below) and will replace the numerical marks used since now.

Advanced (Avanzato): student completes tasks in known and unknown situations, using resources and skills either provided by the teacher as found elsewhere, independently and continuously.

Intermediate (Intermedio): student completes tasks in known situations independently and continuously; solves tasks in unknown situations, using resources and skills either provided by the teacher as found elsewhere, although in a discontinuous and not completely autonomous way.

Basic (Base): student completes tasks only in known situations and using resources and skills provided by teacher, either in an autonomous but discontinuous way, as in a not autonomous, but with continuity.

To be acquired (In via di acquisizione): student completes tasks only in known situations and only with the support of the teacher and resources provided specifically.

New assessment levels are also formative since informations collected is also used to adapt teaching to educational needs of pupils and their learning styles, modifying activities planned by teachers according to what has been observed and starting from what can be valued.

Assesment system is focused on student in his peculiarity and his education career.

The new assesment method will be introduced in special online meetings on THURSDAY 11 FEBRUARY. Family will participate by logging in using school email (name.surname@marcariasabbioneta.edu.it).
